HIGH HOPES OF

Pennsylvania Road Able to Market Bonds to Amount of $40,000,000.

MONEY OBTAINED ABROAD

OTHER FLOTATIONS PROBABLY COMING ALONG SOON.

New York. Feb. 22.-The most promment influence on the stock market towas the Pennsylvania bond issue. Although the official announcement of the details of the issue was not named until late in the day, enough was of the transaction to stamp it as of first-rate importance in its bearing on the financial situation, present and prospective. This importance was attached to it, primarily, because it marks the first sale of a long-time security by any railroad corporation in a period of many months, during which recourse has been had necessarily to short-term note issues bearing on-erous rates of interest. The sale of a ong-term railroad bond issue to a syndicate of bankers, therefore, was regarded as highly significant of the definite passing of an era of impaired or suspended credit for railroad corporations which made severe difficulties for them in the carrying on of important activities in improving and extending their capacities.

The fact of a large portion of the new bonds having been placed abroad aroused hopes of the opening of a way to tap the great stores of foreign capital to aid in the resumption of profitable activities in this country. Remembrances were awakened of the part N. Y. Central ... N. Y. O. & W. Dlayed in the financial regions to the financial regions to the financial regions. played in the financial revival in 1897 by the successive issues of $50,000,000 of bonds by the Lake Shore and of $100,-000,000 by the New York Central. These refunding bond issues bore 31/2 per cent interest in both cases, and their successful flotation came at an opportune time to effect the refunding of large maturing issues of high interest-bearing bonds of those companies. Much deceptive speculation was indulged in over the supposed new era of cheap capital which was dawning for the country without due perception of the large part played by the prolonged business stagnation in piling up idle funds in bank reserves and keeping timid capital out of employment. The present $40,000,000 Pennsylvania issue, a first-rate security bearing 4 per cent, and sold at a discount of several points, shows some marked contrasts with the stagnant money markets which facili-tated the Vanderbilt refunding in

The day's market was full and re flected no expansion of interest beyond the narrow professional limits in which it has been held for some time. United States Steel and Union Pacific were effective leaders in sustaining prices, supplemented effectively by the advance in Reading. The strength of United States Steel was based largely on the personality of the buyers and of the inferences of their influential connections in the steel industry, which were drawn. Union Pacific was helped by some rumors, one of which was that arrangements had already been made for placing a large portion of the intended bond issue abroad. These rumors were without any verification. Money on call was slightly firmer, influenced by the large engagements of gold for exports, which reached $5,509,-000 for tomorrow's French steamer. The volume of these shipments was not a surprise, and the stock market treated t with indifference. The foreign par ticipation in the Pennsylvania bond is sue on the trading was shown in the profit-taking by traders after the late announcement.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, $3, U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 22.—The wheat market was irregular, the May delivery being strong during the entire session and the more distant deliveries quite weak at times. The market was decidedly strong more distant deliveries quite weak at times. The market was decidedly strong the first half hour, owing to an urgent demand for the May option and to the scarcity of offerings of that option. Small receipts in the northwest and firmness of European markets were the factors on which the demand was chiefly based. Later in the session sales of the July and September deliveries became quite liberal, owing to a break in corn and to favorable news regarding the new crop in the southwest. This tended to offset the effect of the congestion in May. The market closed irregular, May being firm and July and September barely steady. May opened a shade to %%%c and closed at %%c, advanced to 96%c and closed at 96%c. July sold between 87%c and 88%c and closed at 87%c.

Corn was weak almost all day, because of heavy selling of the July and September deliveres by leading commission houses. Excellent weather for farm work and for the movement of grain to market was the weakening influence. Shorts were the principal buyers, the bull leaders making little pretense of supporting the market. The close was weak. May op-
